

Thank you for your interest in joining Advocate Medical Centre.

AMC is a well-established clinic located in a purpose-built facility situated at the southern boundary of Box Hill, one of Melbourne's most vibrant and diverse commercial and residential hubs.

Location

Bordering Box Hill South, near the corner of Canterbury Road and Station Street, AMC is nestled in a quiet street with ample free parking in the adjacent council car park. The ease of access to the medical centre is a point of difference compared to other medical practices that are anchored in commercial buildings and shopping malls in the centre of Box Hill. Patients appreciate that they can park ten metres from the door--as do our doctors!

Box Hill is a middle-distance eastern suburb of Melbourne. It has a diverse community and has become a vibrant hub for Melbourne's Chinese community. There are plenty of high performing public and private schools in the area. AMC is close to Box Hill Centro and Forest Hill Chase as well as Blackburn South shopping centre. Big box stores (Bunnings, Officeworks, Anaconda, Decathlon) are less than a mile away. Unlike most areas in suburbia, Box Hill is recognised as a commercial hub with public service offices, hotels and apartments towers reaching skywards.

The Work Environment

The clinic was purpose-built about 20 years ago. We have 2 floors with seven consulting rooms (4 down, 3 up), 2 allied health rooms and a treatment room. We have lift access to the second floor and a secondary waiting area down stairs. You will work along 5 GPs, all who have worked at the clinic or surrounding suburbs for many years. We have visiting psychologists and physiotherapists and a pathology collection centre is on-site.

We pride ourselves on providing comprehensive and compassionate care and you will be supported by our professional management team that run our doctor-owned boutique group of general practices. We understand the good and the bad of general practice, and will work with you to help you achieve your vocational and financial goals. We aim to be as family friendly as possible and appreciate that the important things in life are outside the confines of the medical centre.

Our Patients

As an established clinic, with doctors who have served the surrounding suburbs for many years, we have a very high proportion of loyal patients. Our patients have a higher than average incidence of chronic disease and mental health, mirroring the interests of our doctors. Given good management of these conditions take time, we have many longer appointments and our doctors see 20-25 patients a day.

Point of Differentiation

Unlike the majority of Medical Centres that have opened in the Box Hill Central area, our doctors provide traditional general practice care including home visits and residential care facilities. We are heavily involved in data-driven patient care, fully appreciating that the government is moving towards funding tied to quality improvements. We do not churn patients through the door--if anything, we do the opposite--but our income per patient is high due to the high proportion of patients having health assessments and chronic disease management care. We are also--by some margin--the easiest practice to access in the area.

Our Ideal Doctor

We are looking for a dynamic, young doctor to take a clinical lead in aiding the future development of the clinic. We are looking for a passionate and enthusiastic doctor looking to leave their mark on the practice. We believe the position would be a fantastic opportunity for a newly minted GP. There is the potential for clinical leadership throughout our medical group of four practices. A warm smile, great interpersonal skills and passion for general practice a must!
